Does your child have special educational needs?

- Would you like someone to talk to about special educational needs?
- Do you need information about special educational needs?
- Do you need advice and support?

Hackney Parent Partnership Service is a confidential service offering impartial information, advice and support to parents and carers of children with special educational needs (SEN) and disabilities. Interpreters can be arranged.

We can help you if

- You are worried that your child is falling behind at school.
- You think something is wrong, but you're not sure what.
- You think your child needs more help than they are getting now.
- You would like help to talk to the school.
- You have been told that your child needs a 'statutory assessment' or 'statement'.
- You disagree with your child's statement.
- You are worried about choosing the right nursery, school or college.
- You want to find out where to go for other help and support.

What will we do?

- Listen to your concerns for your child.
- Explain the duties of the school and The Learning Trust towards you and your child.
- Discuss with you the responsibilities you have as a parent/carer.
- Encourage you to express your views.
- Offer an Independent Parent Supporter (IPS).
- Offer help with letter writing and school meetings.
